

How to add Texture for a beautiful bouquet

written by Monica of White Daisy Design in partner with Paula Marie Photography

Hello, Friend!

My name is Monica Simpson.
I am the owner of White Daisy Design, and I have been a floral designer since 2006. I adore working with brides and helping them bring their floral vision to life!

I absolutely love adding texture in bouquets.
This can be showcased with lots of different fresh flowers and greenery, or by incorporating unexpected, and more unique items.

Here are some of my favorite ways to add texture to a bouquet!

All bouquets pictured were created by White Daisy Design.

Pictures of bouquets are compliments of area photographers.

Add Texture

through unexpected additions...

Peacock Feathers

Cotton Branches

Fresh Herbs

Kale

Artichokes

Scabiosa Pods

through unique plants and greenery...

Hypericum Berries

Fringed Tulips

Privet Berries

Protea

Pepper Berries

Blushing Bride

Astilbe

Calycina

Veronica

Rice Flower

Brunia

Succulents

Ranunculus

Seeded Eucalyptus

Queen Anne's Lace

Plumosa

Sword Fern

Foxtail

Agonis

Hanging Amaranthus

Best of luck, Brides!

whitedaisydesign@gmail.com

paulamariemphoto@gmail.com